Did you know

■ Biodiesel is derived from raw vegetable oil, most commonly American grown soybeans. It is made by removing the fat and glycerin from vegetable oils. One bushel of soybeans provides approximately 1.5 gallons of biodiesel.

■ Biodiesel can be used in virtually any diesel engine. It burns cleaner and has higher lubricity than petroleum diesel, thus extending the life of your equipment.

■ Biodiesel is a non-toxic, biodegradable, clean burning alternative fuel, and is fully recognized by the U.S. EPA. It is essentially free of sulfur and aromatics. Biodiesel has the highest BTU content of all alternative fuels.

PuroFuel™ is a genuine Bioheat product.
